

LOCAL POST MADE FINE SHOWING

In Legion Membership Drive Standing First In 8th District In Number Enrolled

Members of Jesse Dykes Post of the American Legion here are mighty proud of the membership record the local post made in the recent drive. Notwithstanding the fact that there is a legion post at Berea, as well as at Richmond, the Richmond Post stood highest in number of members in the 8th congressional district, and figured fourth in percentage in the enrollment of new members.

Commander Harry D. Rice has received the following bulletins showing the good work done, which will be of interest to every ex-service man:

Membership Drive Bulletin

Bradley-Burkhart Post No. 66, Jenkins Kentucky winner; Georgetown, Beattyville, Richmond, Berea and Danville also finished in the money.

Figuring the percentage of new members paid for by the local posts of Kentucky by comparison with the U. S. Census for the year 1910 as set out in Membership Bulletin of February 2, 1920, at which time the announcement of awards for the leading five counties in the Membership Drive was made by State Headquarters, the following five counties are announced the winners:

1. Letcher—Town, Jenkins;
2. Post 60, Commander A. B. Brooks;
3. Scott—Town, Georgetown;
4. Post 24; commander, Gordon A. Hambrick.
5. Estill—Town, Beattyville;
6. Post 85; commander, George T. Smith.
7. Madison—Town, Richmond;
8. Post 12; Commander, Harry D. Rice.
9. Madison—Town, Berea;
10. Post 50; commander, F. B. Griffith.
11. Boyle—Town, Danville;
12. Post 46; commander, Sanders E. Clay.

Especially attention is called to the work of the Beattyville Post. Although organized since February 1, 1920, it has established a record for itself in lining up the service men in the country. The pictures are now being framed and will be sent to the above named posts in the next few days. It is hoped that each one of them will have established club rooms where the pictures may be hung for the benefit of all legionnaires in the county.

Club rooms have been provided for legionnaires by Jefferson Post No. 15, at Louisville, Kentucky; Hopkinsville No. 21, at Hopkinsville, Ky., and Caswell Sauley Post No. 18, Stanford, Ky.

The following is a partial report of the last meeting held by the Caswell Sauley Post No. 18: "Practically every man in this county is now a member of our post. Saturday night we had such a large attendance, that our club rooms would not accommodate them and we had to adjourn to the court house. When we send in the balance of our new members this week I believe that every man in the county except one will be on our membership roll."

Maysville Post No. 13 and Mt. Sterling Post No. 22, are in the midst of a campaign to build club houses for their membership. Catch step with the organization and put your local post among the leaders in the state.

DEMONSTRATION ON CHAS. JETT'S FARM

Will Be Given By Truck Tourists Who Will Reach Richmond Wednesday Afternoon

That a train of motor trucks can be routed through the country and operated on schedule time with the accuracy and precision of a string of cars riding on steel rails will be demonstrated here when the convoy of pneumatic tired trucks arrives here Wednesday, April 21st on a demonstration tour in this section under the auspices of the Central Kentucky Truck Dealers Association.

According to Major T. B. Short train commander in charge of the caravan the trucks will not only complete each day's schedule on time but will stop on the way to haul merchandise, freight, produce, live stock and crops of all kinds to show that the truck saves time and labor and cost and does wear the roads like the solid tire vehicle.

A demonstration has been arranged at the farm of Mr. Charles Jett, on the Big Hill pike, where a lot of heavy logs will be hauled through plowed ground to Bear Wallow.

The visitors will be given a cordial welcome to Richmond, where a committee headed by Mayor Evans has been appointed to receive them. A big dinner and other features is being arranged to welcome the tourists at Paint Lick, by Roy Estridge, Chairman there.

This is the year of the motor truck. There were approximately 800,000 in use in the United States last year. Its universal adoption has stimulated the movement for better roads and it is estimated that over $800,000,000 will be spent on hard surfaced roads during 1920.

The tour will be accompanied by speakers who have made an intimate study of hauling problems and by their demonstrations the trucks will prove that where before the road was master of the truck the truck is now master of the road.

The party will leave here for Berea in the afternoon where a committee composed of Major John Gay, County Farm Agent, Robert Spence, H. E. Taylor and J. O. Lehman will have charge of the arrangements.

RAINY DAY DOESN'T DAMPEN CIRCUS ARDOR

Sparks' Big Show First Of Season, Comes To Richmond With Many Features

Old Danie Nature may camouflage its coming by prematurely bursting into bloom the cherry trees and lilac bushes but not until the dead walls spring into life with the flaring circus posters and the noise of the callopie is heard again in the land is it time to dig up last season's straw hat and don ones B. V. D's.

Sparks' circus which showed here two years ago is making a second visit to Richmond today arriving about ten o'clock Sunday morning and detouring in the freight yards before the customary large crowd of interested spectators. It has grown to twice its former size since its last appearance here and every and every one around the freight depot was struck by the unusual neatness of the train, and the splendid condition of the show's hundred or more horses.

Circus Grounds Too Small

So great has been the increase in size of the show the old show grounds at the ball park proved too small for the exhibition and in consequence the 24-hour man-secured new grounds a little further out and even these made the show camp its nine tents and left little space for the crowds. All day Sunday the grounds were well populated with sight seers and there was much to be seen from the time the men raised the big tents to the watering of the elephants late in the afternoon. The menagerie which now occupies a big four poled tent was viewed by the thousands and most of the sightseers got a free glimpse of the animals.

Baby Kangaroo A Feature

One cage remained closed all day so that an anxious mother might allow her offspring a chance to stretch its legs. In the cage was a happy family of kangaroos, father, mother and a baby in winter quarters at Macon, Georgia, two weeks ago. The mother had never given birth to a baby before and following the traditions of her race has kept it secluded in her pouch since its advent into the circus business. The last few days becoming accustomed to her surroundings and learning that the baby would not be taken from her, she has allowed it its freedom and visitors at the menagerie today will probably be permitted to get a glimpse of it. It is about as big as a small kitten and resembles a hairless Mexican dog more than it does a kangaroo.

A Baby Camel, Too

Another unexpected arrival in the menagerie was a second baby camel that made its appearance during yesterday afternoon. It was up and playing with its mother in less than half an hour after its birth. It is pure white, covered with wool like a sheep and looks like a sheep and looks all legs and neck. The camel family with the show now consists of mother, Essau, and the three sons, Charlie, Clifton and Richmond, the latest arrival being named after this city. The little fellow will be on exhibition today and is already as playful as a kitten.

Parade Out on Time

Early today Richmond took on a circus day aspect. Farmers put off belated ploughing for one more day and came to town early. City folks gathered along the main street and the balloon peddler reaped a harvest promptly at ten thirty the parade reached the business section at its best as the show is just out of winter quarters and the gold leafed dens and cages and the bright new showy uniforms set off the parade amazingly. There was music from bands and callopie, open dens of animals, mounted ladies and gentlemen, cowboys and cowgirls stately elephants and camels driven to harness that proved a novel feature. It was the brightest and prettiest circus parade ever seen in Richmond.

Show Presents Many Features

The big performance this afternoon was well attended and features that appealed to the popular fancy were the Japanese acrobats, the trained horses the foot ball playing elephants, the more than ordinary riding, the beautiful aerial ballet and the clowning which was really funny. To miss the Sparks show is to miss a circus treat.

Named after Richmond

The baby camel will herald the name of Richmond throughout the country, as a result of having been christened Monday morning. This honor fell to the writing staff of the Daily Register through the courtesy of the circus management and the name Richmond was adopted unanimously.

The request for an immediate hearing of the strikers was denied.

Markoe's Slayer Talks

(By Associated Press)
New York, April 19—Thomas W. Shelley, known also as Thos. W. Simpkins, today nervously paced his cell after shooting Dr. James Wright Markoe, in fashionable St. Georges Episcopal church here yesterday. He told detectives he worked as a printer in Indiana, Wisconsin, New York and elsewhere; he said he came from England five years ago. The prisoner's statements indicated he had many farseeing sermons. He asserted that he carried a revolver to make sure he would never be placed in an asylum again. He declared he killed Markoe on sudden impulse.

The authorities announce that Simpkins voluntarily confessed that he came here to kill J. Pierpont Morgan but found he was dead. Then he planned to kill former Congressman George Miller, of Duluth, because Simpkins asserted, "any man who advocates killing another should himself be killed."

NEGRO HURRIED TO JAIL AT LEXINGTON

When Mob At Danville Tries To Find Man Accused of Attacking Little Boy

Danville, Ky., April 19—That Boyle county officials exercised good judgment in removing Lucien Jenkins, 25-year-old negro, accused of complicity in the abduction and attack upon seven-year-old Willie Trimble, last Friday night, to the Lexington jail, was the belief expressed freely here today.

Jenkins was taken through a rear door of the court house after the lights had been turned out and while County Attorney Henry Jackson was voicing plea for the maintenance of law and order.

Sheriff M. J. Farris, Jr., and four deputies succeeding in reaching a waiting automobile with the prisoner, passing four pickets placed on guard by the mob at the exit. Five minutes later the members of the mob succeeded in forcing the door of the court house and a thorough search of the building followed. The negro unquestionably owes his life to the fact that the mob was disorganized.

As the automobile carrying the negro sped toward Lexington, the mob stormed the court house several of the leaders openly declaring it to be their intention to seize the negro and hang him from the limb of a tree in the court house yard.

At the hospital it was said last night slight improvement was noted in the condition of the Trimble child, but that his condition remains serious.

Keith Phillips, 16-year-old white boy, also held in connection with the crime, continued to relate new versions of the attack. He still insists that the negro attacked the child and added that he now is positive that Jenkins is the negro. When seen at the jail Phillips appeared to be dazed.

Phillips took the police to the spot where the bucket and jar carried by the boy at the time he was seized, were hidden. Yesterday he admitted sleeping in the barn where the boy regained consciousness.

Finger prints found on bucket and jar are expected to supply the next clue toward establishing the identity of the boy's assailant. Jail attaches said Phillips reads constantly and that his literature unquestionably has been of the lurid kind. He admitted a weakness for "movie thrillers" also.

It also was learned that officials told Jenkins, the negro, that "things are beginning to look bad and if you are guilty you had better admit it so that we may take steps to protect you."

In spite of these admonitions, it was said, Jenkins stoutly maintained he was innocent, and his last statement before being incarcerated in the Lexington jail, was to repeat that he was innocent and to thank the officers for having saved his life. Opinion here differs as to the negro's part in the affair, but many citizens indicated it to be their belief that he is innocent.

Sunday morning before the operation was performed on his skull, Willie Trimble told the story of his abduction with great difficulty.

He was seized by the negro, he said, as he was returning from the home of Jesse Figg, a neighbor, where he had been to deliver milk and eggs. He was carried into a corn field and struck on the head with a hammer. He remembered having been handed over a fence and being placed in a sink-hole about a mile from the Trimble home. It is believed that the kidnapper thought the boy was dead and hid the body in a sink-hole.

Marcus Trimble, father of the boy, is an employee of the Southern Railway.

Asserts He Is Innocent

(By Associated Press)
Lexington, Ky., April 19—Lucien Jenkins, negro, alleged assailant of little Willie Trimble, of Danville, held in jail here for safe keeping, today maintained his innocence. It is reported that Danville officers believe in Jenkins' innocence.

EFFECT OF STRIKE BEING FELT HERE

Provision Cars Being Held Up In Transit, Threaten Shortage Cheese, Meats, Etc

A number of cars of provisions in the meat and vegetable line which have been due in Richmond for several days are being held up, railway men say, as a result of the strike and as a result there will be a shortage in some lines.

One car which was due in Richmond last Thursday, is said to be "somewhere west or north of Louisville." An effort to locate the car Monday was unsuccessful. Much of the provision being held up was booked out of Chicago, the birthplace of the strike. It is not known when there will be any headway made relative to the forwarding of the cars.

A number of local merchants and restaurant proprietors especially are anxious for the arrival of additional provisions, since it is said that there will be a shortage of certain varieties of meats, and no cheese at all, after the present scant supply is exhausted. No intelligence relative to future shipments could be gleaned from railway representatives Monday at noon.

SPENT A FORTUNE IN SEARCH FOR HEALTH

Prominent Los Angeles Hotel Man Says He Tried Every Treatment Money Could Buy Without Getting Relief.

"In 1900 I suffered a general breakdown and during these 20 years I spent a small fortune searching for health," said Harry McAvoy, with the Alexandria Hotel of Los Angeles, one of the largest and finest hotels in Southern California.

"I went to the best specialists in New York, Chicago, New Orleans, and Seattle. I tried every medicine and treatment money could buy, but the best I could was to get a little temporary relief. Finally I gave out completely under the strain and had to quit work altogether. I was terribly discouraged over my condition and felt that I would be an invalid for the rest of my days."

"I had indigestion in its very worst form. In fact, I was a confirmed dyspeptic; nothing agreed with me and I suffered from all the terrible symptoms of indigestion. My heart palpitated so badly I thought I had heart trouble. I would get so weak and faint I would stagger and several times I fell flat in my tracks before I could support myself."

"I was absolutely afraid to eat, for it meant nothing but suffering afterward and I would have awful pains and burning in my stomach and chest. Sleep! Why, didn't know what it was to get a night's sleep! I would lie in bed awhile and then get so restless I would have to get up and walk the floor. I was almost a nervous wreck and I lost so much weight and strength I was almost too weak to walk, and I honestly believe no man in this world suffered any more than I did."

"Last September I realized I could hold out no longer, and as I had a great deal about Tanlac, I made up my mind to give it a trial. Well, sir, it was the greatest and happiest surprise of my life, for I began to feel better right away. My appetite improved. I began to sleep better and my strength gradually returned. So I kept right on taking the medicine and in only a few weeks' time my troubles and all left me and I found I had gained fifteen pounds in weight."

"From that day to this I have positively been in the best health I ever enjoyed in all my life. I never have an ache or pain. I eat anything I want and don't suffer and bad after effects at all; in fact I feel just like a new man and have plenty of strength and energy. My nerves are steady and strong. I never have a dizzy spell and my sleep is restful and refreshing."

"Tanlac has been worth its weight in gold to me and all the money on earth could not buy the good it has done me."

Tanlac is sold in Richmond by Stockton & Son.

SHE WASN'T SICK, BUT HER CHILDREN WERE

Six Months Of Care And Worry Were Too Much For Her

Got Thin, Nervous, Tired Her Brother-in-Law, A Doctor, Said She Was Anemic, and Advised Pepto-Mangan

Here is a story of a strong, vigorous mother who never knew what ill-health was. But three years ago her two little boys got into the habit of being sick.

Six months of care and worry were too much for her and brought to light the fact, that, with all her apparent vigor, she really was anemic. She lost flesh, couldn't sleep well and got nervous.

Then the doctor (her brother-in-law) prescribed Pepto-Mangan.

She said: "Fred explained a lot about the special sort of iron content in Pepto-Mangan, and a lot of other things that I don't understand, but what I do understand is that a bottle of Pepto-Mangan is always going to be in my medicine closet as long as I live. Whatever it contains, I don't know or care, but I do know that it builds me up when I get run down, and that's enough for me."

Gude's Pepto-Mangan is an absolutely dependable red - blood builder in all conditions of lowered vitality not due to serious disease of the vital organs. It improves the appetite, imparts color to the cheeks, and creates new hope and ambition in those who have become pale, weak, and listless. Physicians recommend Gude's Pepto-Mangan. Get Full Earning Power
From Farm Machinery

What Means Most To You Is What We Try Most To Give

There is only one way to buy an implement economically. Buy it on the basis of its earning power. Buy it for its ability to do good work for you right from the start and year after year.

It is our aim to sell full earning power every time we sell a farm implement.

That is why we buy from a firm that takes every care to maintain its reputation for making only good implements, —why we show you the implement before you buy so that you can be sure it fits your requirements.

—why we set the implement up exactly right before we turn it over to you,

—why we are always ready to help you understand every adjustment before you start operating the implement.

—why we maintain a prompt repair service so that when parts become worn, you can renew them without loss of time.

All of those things go to insure full earning power. Yet their great importance is sometimes overlooked. You will appreciate the care we take in observing them.

HOPTOWN NEGROES DEMAND GOOD POLITICAL JOBS

Hopkinsville and Christian county have a large colored population, and they usually vote the republican administration in power at Frankfort for almost six months, it is claimed that the colored voter is being discriminated against in the matter of passing out the "plums of office" and the Christian county negroes are protesting in strong languages. They have a paper there and it said in a recent issue:

Regarding the first meeting. The New Age says: "In part these gentlemen (the speakers) declared that when we stopped to count up the recognition that the colored Republicans of this county had gotten from the efforts put forth by them in the last state election in giving the party a big majority, it amounted to naught. It was also pointed out that two-thirds of the Republican party of this county was made up of colored voters but in the face of such not a single colored man had been appointed to any real position, but several white Republicans had received fine appointments. Every person present concurred in every utterance made by these gentlemen."

"We demand that the Republican party give to those of our people who are worthy and efficient, positions that carry with them administrative powers. For years our group has loyally supported the Republican party locally and nationally, and then has expected to receive some recognition in appointive offices, but this has proven a fond delusion. But we have begun to see clearly that the only way to receive due recognition is by getting into the game right and fighting as candidates for elective offices."

"The New Age urges competent men to file for the legislature and for city and county offices and make a fight for election. If we unite our forces we will win, and though we should be defeated once or twice what difference does that make?"

DAN CARSON TELLS OF STAKING CLAIM

Richmond Boy Writes Back From Wyoming Where He Went for Government Land

(From Lexington Herald)
Sitting in a South Limestone street fraternity house reading glowing accounts of el dorados offered former service men by the government and annexing the title to some of the el dorado land were two entirely different propositions one Kentuckian well-known here found. Daniel C. Carson, of Richmond, known as "Kit" to the students at the University, of Kentucky, which he attended before leaving for Wyoming to stake a claim on government land offered former service men is the man.

Carson served a number of months with the American army in Siberia, returning and receiving a discharge shortly before the opening of the fall semester at the University.

In a letter written to a friend here, Carson recounts some of the trials encountered in staking a claim to government land. The letter follows: "306 Spruce street,

"306 Spruce street, 'Rock Springs, Wyoming.' 'Dear—

"Well boy, I suppose you think that talk is cheap with some people, but you desired information about these lands in this section. If information of lands in general was what you wanted, I am qualified to speak, but for anything definite you must wait until I get located myself. Probably you know by now that our dope on the Government irrigated land raffle was just about wrong, conservatively speaking. Maybe you would be interested in hearing about the recent drawings.

"I arrived in the little village of Torrington around 9 p. m., March 4. The applications and water rental deposit had to be in the land office by 9 a. m., March 5. Torrington was overrun with soldiers—haven't seen as many in one place since whisky was voted out of the army. There were 5,000 acres divided up into 80 tracts and only 3,251 ex-service men filing, so you can see the chance that even a lucky man up against. Along with your application there was a cash deposit of $5.10 per acre for each acre under water, this money to be returned if the applicant was unlucky. I happened to mine hasn't been returned. Everybody's number was put in a keg and at 2 o'clock they started to draw them. The first man out of the keg won. Oh, it was an exciting afternoon, notwithstanding the fact that a blizzard was raging and the fat supply of 'chow' was about exhausted.

"The other 5,000 acres was opened in the Shoshone region on March 12. This was not as desirable land; consequently, the competition was lighter; but I may, as well state that I don't own any land in that locality either. There is still a large quantity of grazing land left, however, to be homesteaded in tracts up to 640 acres, and this scheme appeals to me more and seems almost as good as the government irrigated land, only here are two kinds of this dry land and the worst isn't worth having, so my business for the past ten days has been looking around for the best and I believe this best grazing land lies in Fremont county around a little space called Pinedale. In addition to taking up a section (640 acres) you may at every reasonable terms buy up to 100 acres with water on it from the state. Also at a low figure ($2.50 per acre) it is possible to get 100 more acres of
